

International Scientific Conference on Infantile Neuroaxonal Dystrophy (INAD) and other types of PLA2G6-associated neurodegeneration (PLAN)

Abstract Information, Format Guidelines & Sample

Due by September 30, 2021

The International Scientific Conference on Infantile Neuroaxonal Dystrophy (INAD) and other types of PLA2G6-associated neurodegeneration (PLAN) will be fully virtual this year. As such, below is information as to how the presentation and poster sessions will work.

- If selected, speakers will have the option to present live or pre-record their presentation. For those who choose to pre-record, we request they be available online to answer questions following their presentation.
- Presenters who are not selected for a talk will be invited to present an electronic version of their work as a poster.
- We will have a virtual poster session and electronic displays.
- Please note that it is also possible to directly request a poster presentation rather than being considered for an abstract presentation.
